| 13. | a) Great professionals, great themes, a lot of new topics, it was really “embracing new knowledge”b) “Arousal” – you gave me wings and made me fly.   |
| 14. | a) Exciting and unique.b) Waterfall on the moon.  |
| 15. | a) I had the possibility to meet colleagues and old friends and to assure myself that we are on the right way of teaching and practicing in our institute.b) Connecting   |
| 16. | a) It was my first time at this meeting and I felt warmly welcomed and accepted. I have learned a lot of interesting things and viewed new perspectives.b) Crossing the borders.  |
| 17. | a) Incredible opportunity to meet international colleagues, to learn about developments in the field not only in Europe but also beyond (USA, Israel...). Opportunity to expand our discussions beyond the scope of the clinical practice to the political context we live in.The organization of the event was perfect! Congratulations for that! It made us enjoy the experience even more and contributed to the whole feeling of meaningfulness and effectiveness of such conference.b) Transition(transition – in the political situation that shapes our thinking; transition – going back to the tradition to push out to new directions; transition - re-evaluate the role of systemic paradigm, its importance not only for the clinical practice but also in the overall view of the world processes, human activities, interconnectedness...) |
| 18. | a) Full of emotions and seeds for thought.b) “A Sunday Family Lunch”  |
| 19. | a) - Way of welcoming and warming up is positive to create spontaneity in new relations with unknown persons. – I regret you inviting a person who talks about classical systemic theory (W. Ray) everybody knows in our group of graduated family therapists. – Wonderful organization and welcoming.b) A plant, with always more leaves and flowers, which all of us together nurture to grow.  |
| 20. | a) Very good and rich programme, wonderful people to meet and nice time to have. I think that we engaged to keep the good spirit throughout the conference.b) COMING TOGETHER, MAKING CONNECTIONS.  |

| 21. | a) Very pleasant and collegial. The feeling of meeting old friends and being eager to make new ones has been constant and has organized all interactions. Every year the getting together gets warmer and more respectful. b) The creating of a common work of art, a mural for the city of systemics who has asked us the mural. To make it happen we all need to act in a feed-forward and feed-backwards fashion in which everybody participates. Everybody is part of it and contemporarily an observer of its emerging |
