

UMBERTA TELFENER BRIEF CV

UMBERTA TELFENER, clinical psychologist with a degree in Philosophy and one in Psychology, is a adjunct professor at the PhD Course in Health Psychology of the University La Sapienza of Roma. She has worked in a Public Health Center for ten years and is in private practice since 1980.

Actually she supervises the work of professionals and groups both in private and public settings.

Teacher of the Milan Family Therapy School (Boscolo & Cecchin), Umberta has edited many books and articles both in Italian and foreign journals, among them a systemic dictionary built as a dialogical hypertext that she edited with the supervision of Heinz von Foerster (Sistemica, Bollati Boringhieri, Torino 2003); Learning contexts (Apprendere i contesti Cortina Editore Milano 2011) and Reflexivity in psychotherapy (Ricorsività in psicoterapia, Bollati Boringhieri, Torino 2014). In the field of post-modern and hypermodern relationships she has published four books on love and relational themes. Among the latest articles The spiritual dimension in psychotherapy in Terapia Familiare N° 107, 2015, and an article in the book by Imelda McCarthy and Gail Simon Systemic Therapy as transformative Practice (Everythingt Connected 2016).

Umberta has a website: www.systemics.eu